

Nevada Library Association

April 13, 2005

Dear Exhibitor:

Plans are underway for the 2005 Nevada Library Association Conference, and we invite you to participate with us in three fun-filled days of programs and events. The Conference will be at Harrah's in Reno, Nevada, October 19-22. We are mailing a personal invitation to every library worker in the State of Nevada and anticipate a record number of attendees from academic, public and school libraries as well as trustees and friends.

Our theme this year is Free Minds, Free People and our keynote speaker on Thursday is Dan Walters, 2005/2006 president of the Public Library Association. Also on Thursday, the entire staff of the Washoe County Library System, the second largest in the state, will be in attendance. The keynote speaker on Friday is being firmed up, and will likely be a children's author. We are anticipating a good turnout from the school librarians.

The exhibit sessions will open at 10:00 on Thursday and close Friday afternoon at 5:00, with at least four hours of no-conflict time planned. The exhibit area is right next to the breakout rooms and easily accessible to conference goers. Special events include an evening at the National Bowling Stadium following the Pre-Conference on Wednesday, a vendor's reception on Thursday evening, and the President's Reception at the beautiful Downtown Reno Library, catered by Harrah's Reno.

Harrah's has reserved a block of rooms for this conference, so when reserving rooms please reference S10NLA. Please do not make reservations on Harrah's website, but call them at 1-800-Harrahs (1-800-427-7427) Information on the conference, room reservations and exhibitor information is available on our website. <http://www.nevadalibraries.org/conference05/index.html>

Thank you for the support you give all Nevada libraries and the Nevada Library Association through your participation in the NLA Conference.

Sincerely,

Sharon Campbell
